SAFETY APPLIANCES PTY LTD

Marine Cabinet – Type one

The Marine Cabinet – type one are manufactured using only SABS approved polyester resin and materials.

A fire can spread through a building in no time – injuring people, destroying assets and threatening the very existence of your business. What makes it all the more tragic is that simple, proven steps can reduce the risk of accidents, and have visible safe storage and protection for your fire equipment.

Safety storage cabinets serve several critical functions:

- Improve security with keyed locking mechanism, to ensure that only the appropriate persons will use it.

- Prevent theft of fire equipment

- Prolongs the life span of the fire equipment especially when outdoors, a fire cabinet will protect the fire equipment against all weather conditions.

- Protection against rust in a marine environment.
